

Victor Local Development Corporation

On a merchants brochure I created to help promote businesses in Victor, New York there was a small area left to squeeze in this overview of the Town's history, shopping and recreation.

Victor, a Destination

History & Culture

Valentown Museum, built in 1879, was to be the shopping and community center of its day. Today it houses thousands of artifacts and heirlooms representing the area's rich 19th century history.

Ganondagan State Historic Site was home to a bustling Seneca Native American village over 300 years ago. The site now features miles of trails, a full-size replica of a seventeenth-century Seneca bark longhouse, and hosts regular festivals as well as Seneca meetings.

Shopping Diversity

From Eastview Mall, situated at the heart of a retail mecca in the Town's northwest corner, to the hundreds of independent merchants which dot the Route 96 corridor, Victor is an undisputed shopping destination in Upstate New York.

Recreation & Parks

Golf enthusiasts will feel at home at one of five courses nestled into Victor's scenic, rolling landscape. Experience Victor's nine parks and 55-mile network of multi-use trails that traverse the Town's abundant countryside and is part of the expansive Finger Lakes Trail System.

Convenience

All of Victor's offerings are easily accessible, located just off exits 44 & 45 of the New York State Thruway and New York Interstate 490.
